We're Getting Involved,

Doing Our Share,

(Upper right) The Young Educators Society includes (top to bottom) K. Harvey, R. Brewer, M. Johnson, A. Zastrow, T. Spadafore, S. Mims, N. Brown, A. Garner, J. Romanelli, K. Kane, A. Howard, S. Sherrod, D. King, S. Hall, S. Spates, A. Pruitt, K. Keyes, C. Phillips, D. Lee, G. Litvinskas, and D. Martinez. Sponsors are Mrs. Stewart and Mr. Nisidis. (Center left) Math Olympics competitors include (top to bottom) B. Church, J. Wilson, S. Esparza, J. Holubik, K. Harvey, J. Carter, T. Rutkiewicz, K. Kane, T. Spadafore, and A. Zastrow. (Center right) Fitness award winners are (top to bottom) N. Suitor, F. Jackson, J. Wilson, and C. O'Leary. (Below) Seventh grade teachers and students team up for an intramural football game.

We're Full Of Energy,

And We Care …

With Loads Of Spirit,

Spirit Week begins with (lower right) Dr. Barris handing Mr. Spann, who retired last spring, a picture honoring him as a Teacher of the Year. The mysterio Igor, having "hung" Mr. Spann, awaits further orders. Hat Day finds (upper left) Jeff Thurman, (upper right) the charming duo of Justin Rick and Patri Clark, (center left) Anthony Kanuszewski, and (center right) Keri Becker getting into the spirit (John Fredericks goes hatless). Tim Carlyon (lower left) spruc up for Dress-Up Day. Spirit Week also features intramural games between students and staff members, and the Black History/honors assembly.

We're Getting There!

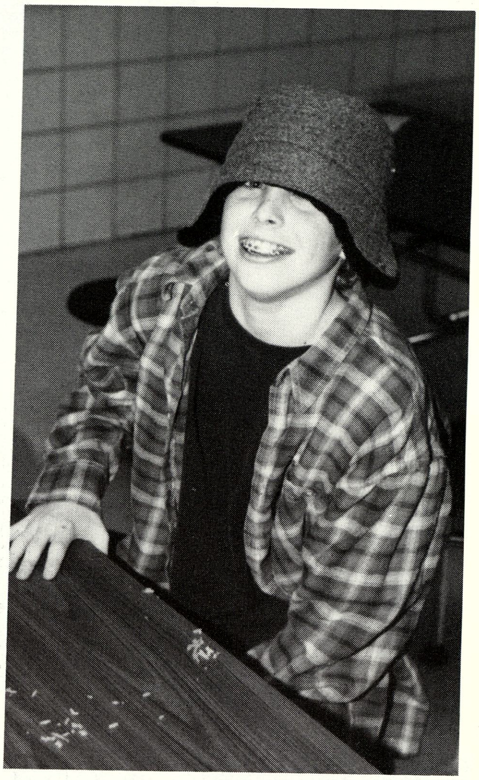
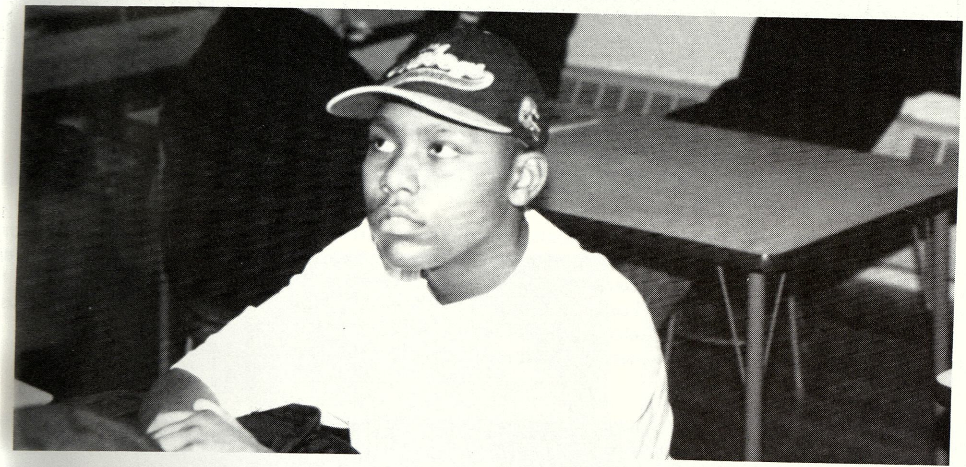
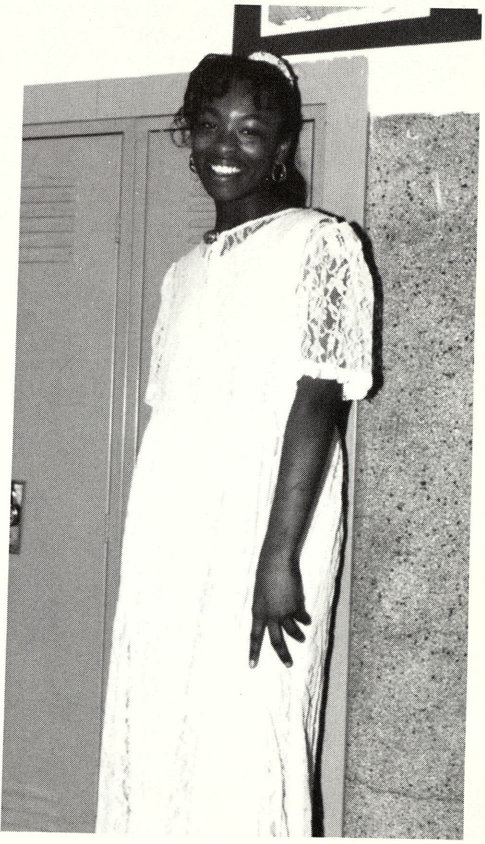
Silverchair







Spirit Week, highlighted by daily themes, provides a pleasant break during the long winter. (Upper left) Michelle Rigda, Shelly Johnson, (upper right) Alex Roe, and (center left) Julius Clay don a variety of headgear. (Lower left) Justin Humphrey, (lower center) Krystol Sedlar, Angela Reisterer, and (lower right) Xenovia Ball show off their finery.

In Memory Of Kevin Ghazanfari
1982-1995

Kevin touched all our hearts. We should remember his smile that he once had. His family cared for him with the magic touch. However, God knew he was suffering and took him from us. His pain and suffering are now gone because God knew where he belonged. He left behind his caring and loving family and friends. Even if we're sad, we know what was best for him. But when it's a rainy day the sun will come shining as if it were Kevin smiling at us. It's so hard to say goodbye to yesterday. But how do you say goodbye to yesterday when it was someone you cared about? I will remember the good times when he made us laugh. I also know where we've been and what we've been through. I will take with me the memories we shared and I hope he did too!

Goodbye, Kevin. We will miss your smiling face!
